

Karen Gillen Joins GRSM in New York City and Phoenix Offices

Gordon Rees Scully Mansukhani, the nation's first and only full-service law firm with offices in all 50 states, welcomes employment attorney Karen Gillen to the firm's New York City and Phoenix offices. She strengthens the Employment Law, Labor, Class Action, Commercial Litigation, Banking & Finance, and Aviation practice groups.

Gillen defends employers in class and collective actions and single- and multi-plaintiff lawsuits alleging a spectrum of employment claims including discrimination, retaliation, wrongful termination, and breach of contract. She enforces restrictive covenants and defends against those claims. Gillen has a strong track record in federal and state courts, arbitration venues including FINRA, AAA, and JAMS, and administrative agencies including the EEOC, DOL, New York State Division of Human Rights, and other state and local agencies, consistently achieving favorable outcomes for her clients.

She is a trusted advisor and strategic partner to her clients, often working on their most sensitive and complex issues. She advises on compliance, workforce reductions, executive departures, and employment issues in business sales and acquisitions, conducts investigations, and drafts restrictive covenants and employment-related agreements. She works with her clients to improve existing employment-related policies and procedures and builds them from the ground up. She is often consulted on emerging issues such as the FTC ban on non-compete clauses and COVID-19. She is invaluable when helping clients through unique and novel challenges.

"I am excited to join GRSM," said Gillen, "I am drawn to the firm for many reasons including its emphasis on top-notch client service, and the cohesive network of lawyers in all 50 states who work tirelessly to solve complex problems and conquer their clients' challenges efficiently and effectively. It is the perfect platform for serving my clients."
